Rent Supplement Program

Halton Region partners with landlords to create subsidized housing opportunities in the private rental market. Rent Supplement tenants have a lease with the landlord, and an agreement with Halton Region for rent subsidy. Halton Region pays the subsidy directly to the landlord each month.

By selecting yes below, you are confirming that you are flexible for any location within the areas you choose:

My location preferences are flexible, please add me to the rent supplement wait list.

I am interested in rent supplement locations in:

Burlington

Oakville

Milton

Georgetown

The availability and location of rent supplement units can change. If the rent supplement program no longer has units that match your location preference and unit size, your name will be automatically removed from the rent supplement option.

Frequently asked questions

How long will I wait for Subsidized Housing?

Due to high demand, there are significant wait times to receive an offer of subsidized housing in Halton Region. HATCH cannot predict how long you will have to wait until housing becomes available. It's not possible to tell you where you are on the waitlist.

Wait times depend on many factors, including:

- The number of units that become available
- The number of buildings and the location you have chosen
- The number of bedrooms you need
- Whether you have housing needs

What if I have an emergency housing situation?

If you are at risk of losing your housing, call the Housing Department in the city or municipality where you currently live. Your local Housing Department may have emergency housing programs and services to assist you while you wait for an offer of housing.

How do I keep my HATCH application up to date?

HATCH will ask you to complete an application update form every other year. If you do not complete the update by the deadline, HATCH will cancel your application.

It's important that you notify HATCH of all changes in your contact information, family size, income and asset amounts, and your building preferences. Please report these changes within 30 days.

What happens when my name reaches the top of the waitlist?

When your name reaches the top of the waitlist, you will receive one offer of housing. The offer could be from any of the buildings or rent supplement programs you have selected. If you do not accept your first offer of housing, you will be removed from the HATCH waitlist and you will need to re-apply with a new application date.
